

Allan and the Holy Flower

Sir Henry Rider Haggard was a writer of adventure novels set in exotic locations, predominantly Africa and a pioneer of the Lost World literary genre. His stories, situated at the lighter end of Victorian literature, continue to be popular and influential. This book -- one of the fourteen that Haggard wrote about English hunter Allan Quatermain in the mysterious wilds of Africa -- concerns an expedition for rare and precious flower ... and the search for the kidnapped wife of one of Quatermain's friends. Tremendous battles ensue: by the time it's all said and done, we've run up against a giant gorilla god, cannibals, slave traders, a very suspenseful lake chase, evil wizards, a hidden volcanic sanctuary ... and more!
