

Atrisco to Zena Lona: A Snappy Survey of Selected Albuquerque Street Names

Want to know something about the story behind Albuquerque's street names- Who are they named for and why? How do you pronounce the names? What do they mean? What's the largest street name in Albuquerque's history? Many people were interviewed for this book; research began when the author was a columnist for a local newspaper. People would call to ask for the origin of one street name or another. This provided the germ for this book. Research continued with further interviews of developers and others responsible for naming streets. In addition to stories of street names, the book lists certain categories of street names, such as animals, birds and flowers. There is a concise explanation and pronunciation of Spanish names. This snappy survey of selected Albuquerque street names is not a doctoral dissertation, but rather fun reading for anyone living in or visiting New Mexico's biggest city. ABOUT THE AUTHOR Judy Nickell, a professional writer, began her career as a reporter for the Albuquerque Tribune. There she covered a variety of beats. She wrote the Q&A column from the 1970s through the 1980s, where this book originated. She also wrote a garden column. She is a Master Gardener and a Certified Arborist. Her book, Enchanted Gardening, is out of print. Bilingual from childhood, Judy is often bothered by improper use of Spanish on street names.
