

The Yellow Wall-Paper and Herland (Deseret Alphabet Edition) (Deseret Alphabet Classics) (Volume 12)

Charlotte Perkins Gilman (1860-1935) was an American sociologist, writer, and social reformer. Her writings include novels, short stories, poetry, and non-fiction. Gilman was a utopian feminist, devoting her life to the examination of the role of women in society. The Yellow Wall-Paper (1892) is a chilling, semi-autobiographical account of a woman's descent into madness during a rest cure for post-partum depression. Herland (1915) is Gilman's most famous and influential novel. It explores a society that has lived without men for 2,000 years upon which three American explorers suddenly intrude. The Deseret Alphabet Classics series provides Deseret Alphabet editions of some of the great works of English literature and LDS theology. Our goal is to encourage the use of the Deseret Alphabet by making worthwhile reading material widely available.
