

The Wind in the Willows/World Classical Animal Masterpiece (Chinese Edition)

The Wind in the Willows is called as the main work in the golden age of England children literature. The Wind in the Willows was primary from animal stories narrated by the writer to his only son Alastair, who loved these stories very much; thus his father promised writing to him to go on the stories when he went for the summer camp. The book describes for good animal friends with their vivid adventures on charming River Thames. Kind-hearted mole, enthusiastic nutria, prudent badger and insane frog leave deep impressions to readers, and their true and cozy friendship moves many childrens heart.
