This volume is the most extensive collection of Wilkie Collins available in the market. It contains 12 of his best novels, and 16 amazing short stories (two co-written with Charles Dickens), in over 2.2 million words. It features all the classics, such as Moonstone, which T.S. Eliot described as the first and greatest of English detective novels; The Woman in White (ranked 23 among the 100 best novels of all time); No Name; and Armadale. Collins classics are considered among the first detective novels ever written, precursors of a genre that we now take for granted and love. This volume contains the following novels: Basil (1852) Hide and Seek (1854) The Dead Secret (1856) The Woman in White (1860) No Name (1862) Armadale (1866) The Moonstone (1868) Man and Wife (1870) Poor Miss Finch (1872), John Jagos Ghost; or The Dead Alive The New Magdalen (1873) The Haunted Hotel, (1879) Short Stories No Thoroughfare (1867) A House to Let (1858) Little Novels (15 Short Stories)
