

Field Trip to Sake Brewery, Nature Walk in Tokyo Japan: Hiking Guide, Japanese Food and Sake Tasting

This guidebook will describe how to access one of the best sake breweries in Tokyo and a walking course along the Tama River. Included are details about these destinations with many pictures of landmarks along the way. SAWANOI ??? is a brand name of sake which is made by a company named OZAWA SHUZO ????. This brewery is in Tokyo and easy to access by train. Sake is made from only rice and is also called Nihonshu. Sake has about 15-17% alcohol. When Japanese people drink sake, they usually drink it straight. It is typically sipped in Ochoko (a small sake cup) or in a glass. Would you like to drink reasonably priced, high-quality sake? Lets do it! The walking course described in this guidebook is not along a steep, mountainous path. It is an easy nature walk along the riverside. It is a good place for couples to go on a date.

Most parts of the course are flat paths which are well-maintained with cement. If it is a fine day, sneakers are fine to wear for walking there. Some cafes and restaurants have a fine view of the natural beauty around the walking course. You might stop to enjoy tasty Japanese food and sweets there. The walking course goes along a river and passes three stations, so you can leave the walking course anytime, and flexibly change which way you walk if you change your mind or if you run out of time during your trip. You dont need a specific itinerary. If you add the field trip to the sake brewery into your walk, it will be more exciting than ordinary sightseeing. Dont miss the sake tasting bar! You can drink many kinds of traditional Japanese sakes and taste plum wine there. Following these plans will become an unforgettable experience during your stay in Japan. Have a nice trip!
