

John Marr and Other Poems

JOHN MARR AND OTHER SAILORS Since as in nights deck-watch ye show, Why, lads, so silent here to me, Your watchmate of times long ago? Once, for all the darkling sea, You your voices raised how clearly, Striking in when tempest sung; Hoisting up the storm-sail cheerly, Life is stormlet storm! you rung. Taking things as fated merely, Childlike though the world ye spanned; Nor holding unto life too dearly, Ye who held your lives in hand Skimmers, who on oceans four Petrels were, and larks ashore.
