

Sylvestre Bonnard, membre de l'Institut, est un historien et un philologue, doté d'une erudition non dénuée d'ironie. «Savoir n'est rien - dit-il un jour - imaginer est tout.» Il mène une vie austère au milieu de ses livres. Mais il consacre également tous ses efforts à trouver un manuscrit du XIV<sup>e</sup> siècle, la Légende dorée de Jacques de Voragine, dont il rêve comme un enfant peut convoiter quelque jouet extraordinaire. Au cours d'un voyage en Sicile, il fait la connaissance du prince et de la princesse Trepof, mais ne parvient pas à mettre la main sur l'ouvrage. À son retour à Paris, il a la douleur de voir le précieux livre lui échapper encore, lors d'une vente aux enchères. Mais il obtiendra finalement l'objet convoité, d'une manière que le soin au lecteur de découvrir... Le hasard lui fait rencontrer la petite fille d'une femme qu'il a jadis aimée et, pour protéger l'enfant d'un tuteur abusif, il l'enlève... Ce roman, spirituel, généreux et tendre, fit connaître Anatole France.
