

The Bishop and the Boogerman

Adelaide and I have come to the conclusion that if you cant believe anything at all, not even the things that are as plain as the nose on your face if you cant enjoy what is put here to be enjoyed if you are going to turn up your nose at everything we tell you, and deny things that we know to be truly-ann-true, just because we havent given you the cross-my-heart-and-hope-to-die sign then its your own fault if we dont reply when you try to give the wipple-wappling call. And more than that, if you know so much that you dont know anything, or less than anything, you will have to go somewhere else to be amused and entertained; you will have to find other play-fellows. You might persuade us to play with you if you had something nicer than peppermint candy, and sweeter than taffy, and then Adelaide would show you things that you never so much as dreamed of before, and tell you things you never heard of.
