

The Steam House

Volume 20 of 54 of Jules Verne's Extraordinary Voyages, first printed in 1880. A semi-historical adventure novel, Jules Verne writes of the aftermath of the Indian Rebellion of 1857, and gives a fictional answer to the question of the ultimate fate of the rebel leader, Nana Sahib. This particular edition is reproduced from English-edition public works, and is presented simply with an emphasis on straightforward presentation, attractiveness and continuity of appearance, with each title in the Extraordinary Voyages sporting a journal-style brown cover accompanied by a cover illustration and quote from the text on the back cover.
