

The Woman In White Annotated by Dallacey E Green, Illustrated by Carmelita Lake

The Woman In White is a famous mystery novel that was first published in 1860. Wilkie Collins wrote this sensational novel that captivated the Victorian Era. Our story begins to unfold when Walter Hartright is addressed by a strange yet beautiful woman in the wee hours of the morning. Her speech is unusual and she appears to be nervously standing before him, as though she fears just what he has no clue. Startled by her sudden appearance, Hartright senses that from this single meeting his life will never be the same again. But who is this mysterious woman? Why is she shrouded in white? And why does she seek her journey in the uncommonly dark hours of night?
