

The Yellow Wallpaper (TransPosition Book 1)

The Yellow Wallpaper is Charlotte Perkins Gilman's harrowing story of a woman decent into madness during the Victorian Age. It is considered one of the most tautly written short stories ever and is worthy of multiple rereads in order to appreciate the economy of words used to express the protagonist's trials. This is a special edition which includes several hundred additional words by Ralph Lagana, Jr., as well as a brief account of Gilman's life and discussion questions for reading groups. Note: The additional wording does not, in any way, dilute or distract from the original work. They are included as a means of creating a more cohesive whole when reading other books in the TransPosition Trilogy due for release 2013. This edition is Book One: Yellow. Book Two: Rust and Book Three: Amber are due in 2013.
